Helping Women 'Power Up' in the Canadian Electrical Industry

The Electrical industry is an innovative market that thrives on new technologies, superior services and a talented workforce that helps power Canada's changing world.

This workforce is empowered by a strong network of people that we lean on and learn from. EFC is dedicated to supporting the electrical industry's journey in becoming a career destination for people of all diverse backgrounds—building a solid foundation for diversity and inclusion for a broader workforce.

Today, EFC member companies employ over 42,000 workers from coast-to-coast in Canada. Approximately 24% of this total workforce is represented by women. The average percentage of women in the workforce in Canada is 44%. To help address this gender gap, EFC has placed a strategic focus on diversity and inclusion.

"Few of us reach our goals without the support of others. Normalizing women in trades and technology careers will take industry and educational leadership and commitment, as well as individual ownership for change, to ensure our industry becomes truly reflective of the society that we live in."

This all-inclusive Women's Network extends invites to CEOs, executives, management and all EFC member professionals. Regardless of age, gender or ethnicity, help empower women in our industry by joining this important network.

"At the May 2019 EFC conference in Quebec City, we held a women's breakfast, where both men and women attended, to better understand the barriers and successes women in our industry experience, so we can develop the appropriate support mechanisms." - Carol McGlogan, EFC

What is EFC's Women's Network?

This program provides a comfortable, collaborative environment for women in the electrical workforce to connect to build bridges between men and women of all ages and backgrounds, develop their personal brand and grow their careers through personal development, educational and wellness opportunities.

EFC's Women's Network centres on three core strategic pillars:

Professional Development

skills development to succeed in the workforce

Empowerment

education/knowledge for personal and professional self-development

Lifestyle

health and wellness/work-life integration/overcoming gender role bias

EFC coordinates a series of seminars, webinars and important resources to help women in the industry champion their professional careers and personal lives.
